OCTOBER TERM OF COURT ADJOURNS

Grand Jury For January Term Will Meet Jan. 29.

Many Criminal Cases Are Continued From October Term.

Judge William E. Scofield Thursday afternoon adjourned the October term of the court of common pleas. A great many cases were docketed for the October term but the coming January term promises to be just as prolific. The grand jury will report January 29 but the matters referred to the jury are not nearly so numerous as at the last term, and it is hardly likely that the grand jury will be in session more than three days.

Previous to adjourning, the court made orders in a number of cases and continued a number of criminal matters which could not be reached during the October term.

Harvey Injunction Continued.
The injunction proceeding of Sarah S. Harvey against the City of Marion has been continued to the next term of court. A motion for a new trial is pending.

New Trial Overruled.
The motion for a new trial has been overruled and judgment for $81.75 rendered against the defendant in the matter of Fred Drury and others against Benjamin Mosier and others. The costs are also assessed against the defendant.

Continue Ackerman Damage Case.
The $25,000 damage case of Genevieve Ackerman, an infant, against the City of Marion, has been continued until the next term of court, while a motion for a new trial is pending. Miss Ackerman stepped into a hole on West Center street and received injuries which she claims have permanently crippled her.

Garrison Case Continued.
A motion for a new trial is pending, and the case of O. Garrison against the National Novelty company has been continued to the January term of court.

Dismiss Alimony Case.
The alimony proceeding of Anna Snyder against Lewis Snyder and the Marion Savings Bank, has been dismissed at the request of Mrs. Snyder and at her costs. She recently filed a sensational petition charging her husband with infidelity.

Many Continuances Granted.
There will be quite a number of criminal cases to be heard at the coming term of court of common pleas, a large number scheduled to have been heard, having gone over for various reasons. The following cases have been continued:

Peter F. Little, charged with larceny; six cases against Loring J. Smith, charged with embezzlement, whose case is now pending in the supreme court; William Humes, charged with burglary and larceny; Gertrude Backer, pointing fire arms; John Orleton, burglary; Ormiston now being in the penitentiary.

A second indictment against Roy Noggle, now serving a term in the Ohio reformatory on a charge of criminal assault, has been nolle by the prosecutor. An indictment against Orison E. Creviston, charging him with having been a party to a criminal operation which caused the death of his wife, was also nolle at the suggestion of the prosecutory attorney.

Continuances have also been granted in the following criminal cases: Three cases of embezzlement against William T. Blue; an assault and battery against Harry Crabbaugh; a charge of larceny against Charles Campbell; an assault and battery charge against Jacob Lichtenberger, a charge of arson against John Delbert DeTurk and a case of burglary and larceny against Harry Armstrong.

A second charge of attempted criminal assault against Almon Tuttle has also been continued. Tuttle is now in the Marion county jail under a suspended sentence of three years, for attempting to criminally assault Miss Flora Spicer. His attorneys have been going over the bill of exceptions and have already prepared a petition in error to be filed in the circuit court at the proper time.

RAJAH OF BHONGAT THE SUN

The Rajah of Bhong proved to be one of the best drawing attractions of the season. Last night two capacity audiences were well repaid for their visit. Arthur Nelson has sent to Marion several of his tabloid productions and they have all made good. The Rajah of Bhong has a few shades the best of all of them. The music is very catchy, the comedy is clean and bright, while the chorus is a hard working little troupe and is really pretty. George Rolande made a splendid Rajah, and Bob Barker and Nat Ritter handled the comedy ends in a manner which kept the audience in a roar of laughter. The Four Merry Bathing girls was one of the big hits of the evening. Some splendid electrical effects are used during this number. Barker and Palmer offer a comedy sketch and scored a big hit. It was a difficult task for them to "get away," their singing and comedy is the best seen in an act of this character this season. Nat Ritter, "the boy with the electrical feet," is the best buck dancer seen here in some time. The entire show is very pleasing from start to finish and they will no doubt establish a new record for the popular little play house.

ORDER OF BEARS IS INSTITUTED

One Hundred Candidates Initiated at Last Night's Meeting.

ANOTHER CLASS NEXT WEEK

Grand President Van Horn of Columbus Has Charge of Event.

Installation Will be Held When Remaining Charter Members Are Initiated—American Insurance Union Holds Benefit For Sick.

Marion Den, No. 58, Fraternal Order of Bears, was instituted in this city Thursday night in the old Knights of Columbus hall on West Center street. One hundred candidates were initiated last night and because of the size of the class, another initiation of charter members will be held next Thursday night. In the meantime, George J. Roth, national organizer, of Columbus, Ohio, will hold the charter open for other candidates who wish to become members.

Grand President A. L. Van Horn of Columbus, had charge of the institution. He was assisted by Grand Secretary A. J. Slaven and Grand Trustee Frank Dellard, of Dayton, Ohio, and the degree team of the Columbus den. A delegation of Columbus Bears attended the institution.

After the initiation, the following officers were elected:

Vice Smith, president; J. J. Ryan, junior past president; Frank Paddeck, vice president; R. A. Burke, chaplain; J. W. Price, secretary, and John T. O'Keefe, treasurer.

An installation will be held and other officers elected when the remaining charter members are initiated next Thursday. After the institution of the charter is completed, Organized Roth is making arrangements for a banquet. Members of the den will meet every Thursday evening until further notice.

CHANGE DATE OF GOODROADS MEETING TO FEB. 29

Because of other important business set for February 1, the Marion county commissioners have set the date for the good roads instruction movement for February 29. State Superintendent of Public Highways James I. Marker is expected to be here with a corps of assistants to explain the best methods of road building, upkeep, bridge building and maintenance and to impress the local officials with the necessity for the very best work when repairs are made.

PRIVATE SHOW IN COURT ROOM

Emotional Italians Put Mayor or at Wit's End to Control Them.

ALL TRY TO TALK AT ONCE

And They Forget Little English They Know in Excitement.

Joseph Farrugio Is Released But Is Ordered Not to Go to His Wife's Home Again Unless Accompanied by an Officer.

Emotional Italians, unfamiliar with the customs of the courts and unable to understand and speak English intelligently, appeared before Mayor C. D. Walters late yesterday afternoon to witness and participate in the trial of Joseph Farrugio, of Gallon, against his wife, Rosalia, had filed an affidavit to place him under a peace bond. The affidavit charged that he threatened her life.

Louis Prusso, a grocer, of North Main street, acted as interpreter for his countrymen but the continual interruptions of the easily-moved foreigners made it difficult for Mayor Walters or any one else to obtain a comprehensive view of the case. The mayor patched up the difficulty as best he could by finding the defendant not guilty and by instructing him to stay away from his wife's home on North Main street unless accompanied by an officer. Farrugio agreed to do this and was dismissed. His wife paid the costs in the case.

After Farrugio pleaded not guilty to the charge, three witnesses were examined for the state and two for the defense. When the witnesses for the prosecution occupied the witness stand, the defendant was unable to hold his tongue. Time and again, his attorney, H. E. Hill, was forced to grasp him by the shoulders and shove him into his chair with the exclamation "Sit down, for goodness sake, sit down." He persisted in standing up and talking whenever he felt like it.

When enraged to a certain degree, witnesses, plaintiff and defendant forgot what little English they knew and rattled off their words of indignation in their own tongue, much to the disgust of the court and the attorneys.

Mrs. Farrugio testified that her husband merely knocked at her door last Monday night and demanded admittance. She refused to open the door, fearing that he meant to kill her. Italians are prone to interpret actions of that kind as a threat to do them
